ROAD ENGINEER ASKS FOR CO-OPERATION OF PEOPLE

Highways Are In Bad Shape and He Wants County to Apply for State Aid to Repair Them.

County Road Engineer J. L. McKee Riffe has gone actively to work organizing his department for taking care of and improving the roads of Lincoln county this coming year, and he is very anxious to have the earnest co-operation of the people of the county in this improvement work. Mr. Riffe has received a letter from State Road Commissioner R. C. Terrell, with reference to this county applying for state funds under the state aid law, and he will take up the matter with the fiscal court at once.

The roads of Lincoln county are right now in probably as bad condition as they have ever been in their history, due to excessive hauling and extreme bad weather. Mr. Riffe says of the matter:

"It will take time, money and patience to make any improvement. Improper drainage being the principle cause of this condition, I shall give my first attention to this work, and I ask those who obstruct ditches with hedge trimmings, fences, etc., to kindly remove same as required by law, Act of 1914, Chap. 80, Par. 52, 53 and 54. In many places on our roads the fences are so close that passing is dangerous and does not allow room for ditching, causing the water to overflow the road, washing away the metal and softening the roadbed. In order to do proper ditching with the grader, which is the most economical and practical way, it will be necessary to have the full width of right of way, which will require the removing of fences in many places."

All work is to be done under the personal supervision of the Engineer, and no work will be accepted unless authorized by him. Any complaints as to condition of roads should be made to the Engineer at his office in Stanford, or 'phone number 227, which will receive prompt attention.

The letter from Commissioner Terrell with respect to the state-aid law, is as follows:

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 2, 1915.
Dear Sir:—
You will note from the enclosed list that thirty-seven counties have thus far applied for State Aid and that your county is not among the list.

There remains but a trifle over a month of time in which the Department will receive applications for State Aid from the counties, it being necessary to fix a date so that an apportionment can be made and work begun on the roads in order to give the counties an idea of the amount of money that they will receive from the State. The date has been fixed for March 4th, 1915, after midnight of which date no applications will be received.

You are aware that a five-cent tax on the whole State, and your county as well as Jefferson County, will pay into the State Road Fund regardless of whether you make application or not. Jefferson County will pay one-fifth of the total State Tax, or $120,000 of the $600,000, the approximate State Road Fund. No county can get back more than two per cent; hence, Jefferson county would receive only $12,000, or approximately that amount, and the other money as well as that from other counties that pay a large portion of the Tax, will be available for the poor counties in excess of the amount they pay in.

I call your attention to this fact and to the fact that you are missing an opportunity to receive from the State assistance in road building, which will not be kept open longer than the date mentioned; and in case you will fail to apply, the money does not accumulate to the credit of the county but goes to the counties that do apply.

Your prompt action in this matter and the action of your Fiscal Court as a body applying for State Aid is advisable. If you have any reasons for not applying or if there are any questions you wish to ask, please state them without any hesitancy, as I will be glad to correspond with you or give you any information possible concerning the State Aid Law.

I would urge that you read Chapters 86 and 87 of the Acts of 1914 and make your application in compliance with Section 7 of Chapter 87 on the blank herewith furnished.

Yours Truly,
ROBERT C. TERRELL,
Commissioner of Public Roads.

The doors of the Central City Bank have been closed by the direction of the State Banking Commissioner.

West End Farmers Losing Lambs.

Stanley Stephenson, a prominent young West End farmer, reports the I. J. that the farmers in his part of the county are suffering much loss thru the death of young lambs occasioned by the severe weather which the little fellows are finding right now. He says that several men in his section have lost about half of their lamb crop so far, and he figures that if the same proportion of loss is sustained all over the county, it will cost the sheep breeders something like $25,000 this season, figuring the lambs at $5 a head. Nathan Hicks, of the West End, has had 90 lambs to come so far and has lost about half of them. Squire J. K. Helm has lost 15 and saved 12 so far. Mr. Stephenson has lost a half dozen and others report similar losses. Just how far is this affecting the sheep breeders of the county, this paper would like to know.

MANY FARMS CHANGE HANDS

In Southern Section of County Thro' Hustling Real Estate Firm

Farms in the southern section of Lincoln county have been changing hands at a rapid rate recently. Quite a number of farmers from Tennessee and eastern Kentucky are coming in and buying small farms from local owners. The real estate firm of Guinn & Thompson, located near Waynesburg, has recently completed a number of farm sales of which the following are a few:

They sold the Butt farm on the Somerset pike, south of Highland to Mr. Howell from eastern Kentucky for $1,300. There were 50 acres in the place. To another party from the same section of the state they sold the Ed Jones farm on the Waynesburg and Crab Orchard road comprising 54 acres for $1,000. The Jim Griffin farm of 140 acres near the Somerset pike was sold to a Mr. Hall, of eastern Kentucky for $4,500. The Williams farm near Bee Lick was bought by a Mr. Howell, a brother of the man who bought the Butt farm, for $700. There are 100 acres in this place. This firm sold Mrs. Ann Eliza Eubanks' farm on Buck Creek, to a Mr. Mead, of eastern Kentucky, for $1,350. Mrs. Eubanks had 60 acres. They also sold Mrs. Florence Singleton's place on Buck Creek to Mr. Mead for $1,000. There were 31 acres in this tract. Dr. Perry Sanders of Pike county, bought through Guinn & Thompson, the Cicero Gooch house and five acres of land in Waynesburg for $1,500. A Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, bought through this hustling firm, the Dan Caldwell farm of 65 acres near Waynesburg for $500. John Thompson, of Lawrence county, a cousin of Monroe Thompson, of the real estate firm, bought the G. W. Gastineau farm near Waynesburg, for $400. There were 45 acres in this tract. Mr. Thompson is preparing to build a new house on this place.

Bennett—Smallwood

A beautiful wedding was solemnized at Duncan, in the southern edge of Lincoln county last Wednesday when Miss Edith Bennett became the bride of Durand Smallwood. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett at two o'clock, by Rev. L. B. Lee, in the presence of a gathering of friends and loved ones. The bride is a very attractive young lady, and the groom is a son of W. H. Smallwood, and has been teaching several years. He will farm with his father, however on their nice place near Fishing Creek. Both have the congratulations of many friends.

SPLENDID CONGREGATIONS HEAR TROSTLE EACH DAY

One Local Pastor Says He Has Never Heard More Powerful Gospel Sermons Than These.

Splendid congregations continue to hear Dr. J. A. Trostle, the evangelist who is preaching twice daily in revival services at the Presbyterian church. One of the largest audiences ever gathered on a similar occasion in Stanford heard him preach a powerful sermon Sunday night. The auditorium of the church was unable to hold all who came, and a number who could not find seats had to return home.

Dr. Trostle is one of the most powerful exponents of the Word ever heard in Stanford or anywhere else for that matter. One Stanford pastor declared to his congregation Sunday morning that he did not remember, during his long life in the ministry, having heard a more powerful or as powerful exposition of the Gospel in a series of meetings such as Dr. Trostle is giving.

A splendid afternoon audience greeted Dr. Trostle on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A very illuminating sermon was delivered by the preacher on "Jesus With His People." The literal rendering of Jesus' words "So I am with you all the days even unto the consummation of the age" was made the basis of comment which was both informing and inspiring. Mr. Trostle was particularly impressive in describing Jesus as the present Helper of all who are in trouble and temptation.

On Friday night the subject was, "Our Hidden Sins." The prayer of the Psalmist, Psalm 19:12 was described as a fitting prayer for all people, and also the other famous prayer in Psalm 139: 23, 24.

On Sunday morning a large audience listened to a very enthusiastic and impressive discourse on "The Holy Spirit."

On Sunday night there was a record-breaking attendance. The auditorium was filled to its utmost capacity. The sermon was a searching one on the words of the prophet Nathan to King David, "Thou Art the Man." The directness of the words of the text was made doubly forcible by the opening words of the preacher when he remarked that it was a text that no one could get away from or pass over to some one else. Following this line of thought Mr. Trostle spoke with marked force and pungency, trying as it were to have a personal conversation with each one in that large company at one time and bring home to each one a sense of his soul need. The audience paid strict attention to the words of the preacher and were evidently deeply impressed.

On Monday afternoon Mr. Trostle discussed the subject of Christian Assurance, pointing out the fact that the teaching of Christ and His Apostles is that "eternal life" is a present possession. "He that believeth hath eternal life." It is possible here and now to enter into that life of enlarging visions and spiritual freedom and power. It is possible not to know Christ personally. It is the privilege of every Christian to be able to say with Paul "I know Him whom I have believed." Shall we be contented to live far beneath our privileges?

On Monday night Mr. Trostle delivered a very solemn discourse on "The Sin Unto Death." The congregation was a very attentive one and went home after the sermon in a prayerful mood. The subject discussed was all the more striking because of what had been the theme in the afternoon, the blessedness of the ever increasing assurance of faith and hope over against the awful danger of a false security unrealized until the door is shut, and opportunity gone.

Your Aid is Solicited

Mrs. C. C. Gooch, of Waynesburg, spent Monday with Mrs. E. C. Jordan at the St. Asaph.

County Attorney W. S. Burch has returned from Hot Springs where he has been recuperating for a few weeks. He is greatly improved in health, his friends are glad to know. H. C. Carpenter, the local Maxwell agent, took in the auto show at Louisville last week, and returned by Shelbyville, where he spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Homer Carpenter and family.

"Marvelous Mat" Cohen, was here Monday running for the Democratic nomination for Commissioner of Agriculture "like a scared dog." Everybody in this neck of the woods seem to be for Mat, and if things continue as at present, he's going to get nearly all the votes in his race.

Master Sale at Milledgeville.

One of the best little sales held in the West End in a long while was that of H. A. Mastin, near Milledgeville, held last week by the popular auctioneer Col. J. B. Dinwiddie. The place was withdrawn at a figure of $750 but the household and kitchen furniture went at top prices, and everybody was pleased. Mr. Mastin advertised well in the I. J., which, of course, explains it. But then, Col. Dinwiddie is proving himself a prince of auctioneers and "gets the price."

Sold His Maywood Farm

T. C. Ball, the "Mayor of Maywood" has sold his little farm near that place to Henry Browning, of Livingston, for about $2,000. As soon as the transfer is made, "Mayor" Ball will move to Stanford and open his store on Depot street.

C. C. GOOCH REMEMBERS BAPTIST CHURCH IN WILL

Prominent Waynesburg Citizen Bequeaths Legacy To Kentucky General Baptist Association

The will of C. C. Gooch was probated in court Monday. Mr. Gooch died at his home in Waynesburg some four weeks ago. He disposes of his estate valued at $12,000 in a rather unusual way. First he orders that his debts be paid. He gives to his widow the property they occupied, the contents of the home and stock in hand, and $500 in cash. This is to be absolutely hers as long as she lives as his widow. The rest of his estate is to be held in trust by the Fidelity & Columbia Trust Co., of Louisville, and the interest from it is to go to the General Association of Baptists of Kentucky to be used in building or supporting Baptist churches nearby. In the event his widow marries, the principal of that portion of the estate left her is to go to the General Association of Baptists, the interest on which is to be used the same way.

The will was made in August 1912, and J. B. Paxton is made executor. He will wind up the affairs and turn them over to the Louisville institution mentioned above. As only the interest from the gift to the Baptists can be used, it is a perpetual one and as long as the Association of General Baptists of Kentucky exists it will draw interest from the sum left by Mr. Gooch.

It aids expectoration and opens the secretions which enables the system to throw off a cold. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia. It contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. For sale by all dealers.

Zelma Young's Murderer Caught?

A dispatch from Lexington to the city papers Monday said: John Walker, colored, arrested today at Logan, West Virginia, according to officials, confessed to the murder of Zelma Young, a ten-year-old white girl at Danville, Ky., last May. The girl was found lying in bed with her head severed from her body. A big reward was offered and many clues were run down without success. The negro left his hat in the house and this led to his capture after a long chase. It is said he was trying to enter the house when the girl surprised him and he killed her.

FAMOUS OLD DISTILLERY

Rapidly Wasting Away After Big Business at Crab Orchard

The old Crab Orchard distillery, at which has been made thousands of barrels of whisky, is rapidly wasting away. It has not been used for the purpose it was built for several years and as no improvements have been made for a decade or more, there is little reason why the old "shack" could stand many more storms. The building was erected in 1867 by W. G. Collier, father of J. Harvey Collier, who made whisky in it for a long time. The junior Collier, for a dozen years, "mixed the mash" and is said to have been as much of a success at it as he has been in the mercantile business, and those who know his comfortable circumstances know what means Mr. Collier sold the distillery to Dr. J. B. and Asher Owsley, who operated it for a while. These gentlemen in turn disposed of it to James Fish, father of Mrs. J. G. Carpenter, of this city. Mr. Fish sold it to J. H. Hutchins, who made money out of it and later sold it to J. W. James, who sold it to the trust, after operating it a long time and amassing a little fortune.

There are less than 30 barrels of "Old Crab Orchard Whisky" in the warehouse now and when this is exhausted the real stuff will be no more, but it will be made as long as time lasts we suspect, for it is a good seller and people are not prone to pay a big price for a brand of booze and not keep it on the market. The trust paid a handsome sum for the distillery, probably more for the brand than the building, and "Old Crab Orchard" may now be made in a half dozen distilleries in this and other States. J. Harvey Collier told an I. J. man that he has seen as high as 4,000 barrels of the favorite brand in the warehouse at one time. He says that it used to be a splendid whisky and must be good yet, the way it sells, but that for years he has had no practical experience with it—letting the other fellow have his share of the "ole stuff."

A Lincoln County Man of Years

Ago Writes Entertainingly
Guilford, Mo., Jan. 23.
Editor of Interior Journal:—

My time having expired for the Interior Journal and having been a subscriber since before the paper was out of its teens, I don't feel like forsaking it in old age, therefore I will strain a point and send another dollar for one more year, notwithstanding the places of the larger portion of my old friends of fifty years ago have been vacated from one cause and another, mostly by death, and the same filled by others, strangers to the writer. By and through the means of the Interior Journal I have been kept in touch, I will call it, with the ups and downs of the doings of old Lincoln. I am glad to note however that there are a few of the old friends of my boyhood days yet in your midst. My, it makes me feel almost like a boy again when I think of it, but when I tell you that 49 years ago this evening, I was married to Miss Lou McKinney, the Rev. John A. Bogle sealing the vow, you will now say you can't be only an old boy. I imagine that I would surprise you if I was introduced to you for a man of 75 years. Oh pshaw! I did not start out to bore you with this sort of information but I will wind up on the same strain. We have raised five children—three boys and two girls. You will excuse me when I say that I think they are hard to get around. The oldest is 47, the youngest 38 years. Those are our heavy weights 250 pounds and 130 pounds. Yours respectfully,
C. D. HOCKER.

A heavy cold in the lungs that was expected to cure itself has been the starting point in many cases of disease that ended fatally. CATTLE MARKET ACTIVE AT STANFORD COURT DAY

Over 1,000 Bees in Pens and Prices Are High—Mule Buyers Fail to Get All They Want.

Notwithstanding the fact that the foot and mouth quarantine has been placed on all of the city markets, Cincinnati, Louisville and other markets to which shippers in this end of the state, send their bees, there was a brisk demand for the 1,000 cattle which were on the Stanford market here court day, and splendid prices prevailed, some of the best beef selling as high as ten and a half cents by the pound. Just how high some of the stuff was figured by the head is hard to say. One buyer told the I. J. that he estimated a price of about ten cents a pound had been placed on a bunch of small calves which were offered for sale by the head, according to the way they sold.

As usual buyers were here from a dozen counties, or more, and stock dealers from as far south as Tennessee came to market with their herds and most of them returned with good fat checks in their inside pockets. Farmers with spring grass coming on are figuring that they can put it to no more profitable purpose than to beef right now with the war on in Europe and the demand for anything to eat soaring all the time. Several good sales were made on Saturday before the regular buyers came to town, a number of local farmers picking up stuff that they wanted on the road, before the stock yards were reached.

Two sets of mule buyers were in town Monday looking for stuff, but did not get all they could handle. E. G. Fox, of the firm of Fox & Farris, of Danville, came over looking for some aged mules for the European armies, and bought a total of twelve head, at prices ranging from $115 to $150 a head. Mr. Fox stated that he had just returned from Monticello where he bought twenty-seven head at about the same figure. W. B. Burton, of Lancaster, was here Monday with a Mr. McClary, of Pennsylvania, who was looking for some fat mules for the northern markets, but was unable to secure what he wanted. So far as could be learned no horses changed hands here Monday.

New Gym At Centre College.

It will be of interest to the alumni of Centre College to note that the Gymnasium will be rebuilt immediately. It will be remembered that the new gymnasium erected in 1914 burned to the ground in November. A movement was instantly started for the rebuilding. The requisite sum has almost been secured at this early date for replacing the building, as it was before the fire. Reconstruction will commence as soon as weather will permit and the aim is to have the building ready for occupancy by September, 1915.

James Evans, Colored Barber Dead

James Evans, who for a number of years has been working at the barber trade in Lige Farmer's shop, died Monday morning at 4 o'clock, and will be buried Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. He is survived by his wife and two children. He was a well behaved, good darkey and had many friends among the white people.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Interior Journal is authorized to announce the following candidates for office, subject to the Democratic primary, August 7th, 1915.

For Circuit Judge

C. A. HARDIN, of Mercer county.
CHAS. C. FOX, of Boyle county.

For Commonwealth's Attorney

E. V. PURYEAR, of Boyle county.
R. W. KEENON, of Mercer county.
J. S. OWSLEY, Jr., Lincoln county.

For Railroad Commissioner.

WM. F. KLAIR, of Fayette county.

The Courier-Journal and Times seem to take great delight in "playing up" in their headlines the fact that the investigation of elections in Pike county disclosed that several votes were bought for Beckham in the recent primary at $3 a piece. The C.-J. then goes ahead and prints a Washington story that the U. S. Senate may investigate Beckham's title to the office on this account. How awful it all is. And yet when the most gigantic election fraud was ever perpetrated upon the people of a commonwealth in 1908 by a state legislature, when four so-called democrats were "induced" to vote for Bradley and against Beckham, these same papers condoned and commended the treachery that they displayed, and so far as we know, never suggested an investigation by a grand jury, the U. S. Senate or any other tribunal. And we were about to forget to remark that the C.-J. correspondent interviewed one A. O. Stanley at Washington, and that he remarked that the votes in Pike county were cheap, or words to that effect as "they" paid more for them in his county. He failed to tell, however, how much "they" paid—however "they" are—for votes for him or how much "they" paid for votes for him in Louisville, in Lexington, or even right close here to home, where it is said that as high as $10 apiece were paid for votes for Stanley in Mercer and Boyle, while in Franklin we have heard that the rich friends of Stanley in the distillery business spent about $14,000 to carry that county for him, by 11 majority. Of course we do not charge that Mr. Stanley had any personal knowledge of this. And we, likewise know, that Mr. Beckham had no knowledge, of any money spent to buy any votes for him in Pike county or any where else if some of his enthusiastic friends may have done so in some isolated cases. Let the C.-J. and the Times promote an investigation of the title to Beckham's seat if they care to. It will amount to nothing, and will simply prove once more how much gall and wormwood it was to them when he was finally honored with the Senatorship by the people of Kentucky, notwithstanding their temporary triumph when they helped defeat him with Bradley in 1908.

What a glorious thing it is for Senator Camden that he is not a candidate for governor or anything else before the people of Kentucky. Ollie James simply "ate him up" in the Senate last week for Camden's desertion of the democrats on the ship purchase bill, which President Wilson favors. Camden voted with the republicans on the measure, and James taunted him with the fact that he had voted with them in 1896, 1900 and 1908, which meant that Camden had opposed Bryan every time he ran for president. A great many democrats over Kentucky who had been staunch admirers of Camden regretted to see him take such a course, when they had been confident that he would uphold the hands of President Wilson in every way. Ollie pertinently suggested that Camden had upheld the president's hand while the republicans "tied them." Camden has but a few more days in the Senate, however, for Beckham goes into office on March 4th, and there's not the slightest doubt in the world where he will stand, for he'll be shoulder to shoulder with James, supporting the greatest president the country has had in several generations, all along the democratic program.

The steamship Lusitania, owned by British interests, went into port at Liverpool flying the American flag to escape German submarines. Our government will enter a strong protest, and unless this thing is stopped first thing we may expect to hear of will be some of the belligerents going into battle with Old Glory at their head, which will, naturally, give them a decided advantage for every American knows that one American soldier can whip his weight in wildcats, let alone a few companies of European soldiery, no matter what their nationality.

The older member of the I. J. firm is responsible for an error in the last issue of this paper. In mentioning the death of Mrs. W. D. Stagg he spoke of her husband having preceded her to the grave. We are glad to state that Mr. Stagg is still in the land of the living and gives promise of sojourning for many years, although the irreparable loss he has sustained may shorten his days. We conflicted Mr. W. D. Stagg with Mr. Ed Stagg, who died while the writer was living in the South.

ifornia Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach ache or diarrhoea. Listen, mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt. 12-1

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION

Important to Everyone

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than Nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism may be weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

Many physicians claim that an herbal medicine containing no minerals or opiates has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Stanford Interior Journal. 10-3.

Heard About Town

The following gentlemen enjoyed an elegant turkey dinner at the home of J. C. Fox, in the Preachersville section Sunday: Col. S. T. Harris, Messrs. W. G. Gooch, William Lawson and W. B. Mason.

The Messenger says that Miss Edna Camnitz, of Hustonville, has taken a position in the shoe department of The Hub at Danville. That she will make good, her many friends in this county have no doubt.

The Tulsa, Okla., Daily Record contains a double column picture and lengthy write-up of Robert L. Davidson, who has recently been elected Senator from his district, defeating two popular candidates. The paper is very complimentary of the Ex-Kentuckian, who is a relative of Mrs. W. A. Carson, of this city.

G. M. Lyons, of Lancaster, was here Monday, helping his local force to take care of the good business that this store is doing during its special sale. Mr. Lyons' son-in-law, Mr. Taylor and wife, are now actively in charge of the local establishment, and are being cordially welcomed to Stanford as residents.

Monroe Thompson, the hasting real estate dealer on Buck Creek, was in town Saturday on business. He says that everyone in that part of the county is greatly pleased with the school which Prof. Ernest Gooch is conducting, in Sub. District 14. There are about 30 pupils in the district and the attendance is always good, and very satisfactory results are being obtained.

Mr. E. B. Kennedy went over to Frankfort Monday morning to fill the position of assistant secretary to the State Board of Equalization. Before departing he said to an I. J. representative: "I both enjoyed and appreciated the pleasant in your Friday's paper, but you gave me credit for being more than I am entitled. I was elected assessor, and for which I am duly thankful, and was appointed assistant secretary to the board of equalization, but you were in error about my being a member of the board of supervisors this year. However, being the assessor of the county this year I had to be in easy reach of the supervisors, who frequently called on me about this or that assessment."

There is about as much regret at Crab Orchard over the proposed departure of J. Carroll Bailey and family as there is rejoicing here over their coming to Stanford. A substantial citizen and a patron of the Crab Orchard Banking Co., of which Mr. Bailey has been cashier for eight years, said to a representative of this paper: "The departure from Crab Orchard of Carroll Bailey means a severe loss to the town and the bank. He is a splendid citizen and has done much toward the upbuilding of our town. As a bank official he has at all times been painstaking, courteous and accommodating. Our section can ill afford to lose such a man. And we regret just as much at the loss of Mr. Bailey's splendid family as we do the loss of him." Others with whom the I. J. man talked were as complimentary of the man and regretful of his leaving.

Colds and Croup in Children Many people rely upon Chamberlain's Cough Remedy implicitly in cases of colds and croup and it never disappoints them. Mrs. E. H. Thomas, Logansport, Ind., writes: "I have found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best medicine for colds and croup I have ever used and never tire of recommending it to my neighbors and friends. I have always given it to my children when suffering from croup, and it has never failed to give them prompt relief." For sale by all dealers.
